"Anne Frank" To Open Wednesday In Theatre

by Joyce Chumbley

The second production of the Drama department's current theater season will be the Pulitzer Prize play, THE DIARY OF ANNE FRANK dramatized by Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett from Anne Frank, DIARY OF A YOUNG GIRL.

The production is directed by George R. Hoerner, and will open on Wednesday, November 18, and run through Saturday, Nov. 21, at 8:15, in the College Theater.

Anne's diary shows the spirit of a young girl, and tells of the eight Jews who hid in a garret above an Amsterdam office building during the height of the Nazi wartime terror.

Esther Glatt plays Anne

They are kindly Mr. Frank (Al Eisenberg), and Anne (Esther Glatt), and their uninvited guests for the duration—a self-centered businessman Mr. VanDaan (Roger Ahrens); his vain wife (Carol Silver) and their sixteen-year-old son Peter (Roger Harkenrider); and a crotchety dentist, Mr. Dussell (Tom Urban).

They suffer all the normal frustrations attendant on the knowledge of eventual doom.

Crises occur

There is ennui, bickering, and the crises that occur when Anne's nightmares rouse the household, and threaten to rouse the Gestapo as well.

Also in the cast are Fred Maderic and Nancy Figard. The set designer is Barry C. Tuttle, and stage manager is Sandy Paolini.

Tickets may be picked up at the box office for student coupon #2.

Frosh Candidates Selected Tomorrow

The student council announced that a convention to choose candidates for the four officers of the freshman class will be held this Thursday, November 12, at five p.m. in room 22 of the annex.

This nominating convention will be the preliminary step in the election of the president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer of the class of 1963.

All members of the freshman class are eligible for nomination. However, before final approval is given to a candidate, he must first obtain the signatures of all his instructors on a statement indicating that he is doing satisfactory work.

Statements given

These statements will be given to the candidates by the student council at the nominating convention. Once these statements are collected, the candidates' names will be placed before the entire freshman class in a general election.

This general election will be held on the Thursday following the nominating convention, Thursday, November 19, 1959. The election will be secret ballot, and will be held in the annex throughout the day.

All nominations and election procedures are subject to the super-

United Fund Goal Reached By College

Total contributions of Ithaca College's United Fund campaign have reached their goal of $2300. This total represents individual students, organization, and faculty donations.

Students gave a total of $235.40. Co-chairmen Bob Moore and John Hull announced "this year's student drive was a great success, as it went over last year's total by $60."

This sum was achieved primarily by Delta Sig conducting a "Beauty and Beast" contest, and an auction held at the U.F. "Charity Ball".

Also, outstanding contributions were made from three fraternities—Delta Kappa, $25; Delta Sig, $34; and Phi Epsilon Kappa, $30.

Editors To Represent College At Conference

ITHACAN editor-in-chief, Joseph A. Gillan, and managing editor Daniel P. Healy today left for New York City to represent Ithaca College in the 35th annual Associated Collegiate Press conference.

The conference will run today through Saturday at its headquarters, the hotel New Yorker.

Featured speakers are Chet Huntley, noted NBC-TV news commentator, and Norman Cousins, editor of Saturday Review.

Short courses in newspaper techniques, panel discussions and various clinics are also scheduled.

The "learn from a pro" series will feature the following speakers: James Roach, sports writer, New York Times, and Earl Ubell, science editor, New York Herald Tribune.

Aumuller to speak

Also, Albert Aumuller, World-Telegram and Sun administrative assistant, and former chief photographer; Allan Keller, World-Telegram and Sun staff writer; Robert Alden, city staff, New York Times; and Gilbert Millstein, New York Times staff writer, Sunday Times Magazine Section.

The series will cover a wide range of topics, from newswriting to newspaper makeup.

This is the second time Ithaca College has been represented at an ACP Conference.

Gutekunst visiting Voice Professor In Music School

Carl Gutekunst has been appointed a visiting professor of voice at Ithaca College's School of Music.

Mr. Gutekunst, a graduate of Northwestern University, also studied at Columbia University and at the American Conservatory at Fontainebleau, France.

He is vice-president of the National Assn. of Teachers of Singing and vice-chairman of the American Academy of Teachers of Singing. He was president of N.Y. Singing Teachers Assn. from 1946-48, and from 1956-58.

Mr. Gutekunst is also a member of Pi Kappa Lambda, a national honorary music fraternity.

"Beatnik Bounce" On for Saturday

The "Beatnik Bounce", a dance sponsored by Delta Phi Zeta, will be held this Saturday at the V.F.W. Dancing will be from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m.

Late permission for girls will be granted, and the music will be furnished by Van Sterling. Entertainment will also be provided during the intermission.

Prizes will be awarded to the couple with the most "beat" costumes.

"Beauty and Beast"

Starkman and Beninati Elected

Carol Starkman, with a total of 456 votes, and Frank Beninati, with 563 votes, were announced the winners of the "Beauty and Beast" contest last Friday at the United Fund "Charity Ball".

Other candidates for the "Beast" and the votes they received are: Bill Chase, 357; Mike Angelo, 205; and Clem DeFelice, 129.

Candidates for the "Beauty" and their votes are: Esther Glatt, 272; Mary Ottoway, 159; and Lois Ebert, 117.

Frank Beninati, representing Delta Sig, received the title of "Beast" for the second consecutive year. He is a senior in the business department, and participates in Intramurals and Newman Club.

"The Beauty"

Carol Starkman
Delta Phi Zeta

"Starky", a nickname given to Carol by her friends, is a senior in the physical education department. She is a member of WAA, Majors Club, and Newman Club.

An auction, "a highlight of the evening", was conducted by Frank Kolmin, school co-ordinator of U.F. for students and faculty.

Articles for the auction were contributed by local merchants.

This added $50 toward I.C.'s U.F. goal.

Vice-chairman of the United Fund, Edward Beam, complimented the College on its "successful drive".

Among the write-in candidates, Mrs. Lynch received 72 votes for the "Beauty", and Dr. Stimson and chairman John Hull received 63 and 5 votes respectively for the "Beast".

Cirillo Concert Tomorrow Night

At 8:15 p.m. tomorrow, Miss Nancy Cirillo, violinist, will perform at a benefit recital in the Ithaca College Music Hall.

The recital is under the auspices of Sigma Alpha Iota, and tickets may be obtained from any SAI member, or at Hickey's music store.

Let's Give Thanks

"Come Ye thankful people come"—"We gather together to ask the Lord's blessing." It won't be long before these old traditional hymns of Thanksgiving will be echoed throughout houses of worship the world over. There will be Thanksgiving sermons, pictures, television programs, and parades. In small New England towns bathed in the autumn and pre-winter setting, the story of the first pilgrims and their spiritual effect on the history of Thanksgiving will be re-told. Housewives will be busy fixing the turkey dinners, and Thanksgiving will mean a day of rest for the workers and job-holders. Thanksgiving means schools will be closed, and it means vacation for virtually everyone.

In some areas of the world, Thanksgiving is just another day. In areas of Europe, in the Soviet wastelands, in crowded India, Japan, and China, there will be no turkeys and no vacations. It will mean just another day. Unfortunately, the commercial interests have done much to take away the real meaning of Thanksgiving. It's really a simple meaning. To this writer, Thanksgiving means to remember what we have to be thankful for in this country of ours. We take so much for granted. Most of us have never experienced war or hunger. Most of us have never lived in constant fear of our very lives. Most of us have never suffered the oppression of Hitler or Stalin.

To many, this will be just "another" Thanksgiving—another vacation—another turkey dinner. In the course of all of your Thanksgiving activities, pause a moment and try to realize what you really have to be thankful for—there is so much, that it's probably hard to find a starting place. Thanksgiving is a time to think and a time to take count of our many blessings—So "Come Ye Thankful People Come" and never lose sight of the blessings and the guidance we have received from the Almighty. May this Thanksgiving be truly a time of joy and happiness and may its spirit carry through the year.

Freshman Responsibility

Freshmen, soon you will be voting for your class officers.

Justify your right to criticize your student government by taking an active part in it. Attend your class' meetings, and participate in its activities. Have a class that's "on the ball".

It's easy for apathy and indifference to take over in a class. Don't let this happen to the class of 1963. It's up to YOU!

Job Well Done

A word of congratulations for a job well done goes to Delta Sigma Pi for successfully handling the United Fund drive at Ithaca College.

The chairman of the drive, contest and dance and his committee performed a commendable job of creating interest and excitement for the drive at the college.

DEAR RABBE

In the past few weeks, rumors have been spreading around the school as to the identity of the person who has taken the position of our Dear Rabbe, here on the Ithacan.

The only results anyone has come up with is that Jack Cantwell, the Dear Rabbe of semesters past, is still the guilty culprit. To set one point straight, Jack is not to blame this year. Well who then is the Ithacan's love-lorn expert you are probably asking yourself right now. This unfortunately (well perhaps fortunately, is known only to our Dear Rabbe and Rabbe's agent here on the paper.

If you really want to know, editor Joe Gillan has notified us that Rabbe will make one public appearance this year, and be identified to the world.

PINS

Terry Toth, president of the Senior Class, has announced that the class will be selling class pins within the next few weeks.

HAPPY HOLIDAY

The editors would like to take this opportunity to wish everyone an early "happy holiday", and would also like to take this opportunity to study for prelims.

POET'S CORNER

I'm bored
everything is boring.
life marches on and I wait, wait, wait for some spark of light
some illuminating force to enter and turn my tears to laughter.

I'm bored
I hope and I pray for the clouds to disappear and for sunshine to take its place in the oh, so familiar darkness.
Someday they tell me
the tides of life will turn and if I wait
have hope and faith believe in all that's good maybe in some unexpected moment my patient suffering will cease my heart will lose its pain and boredom will fade away and my storeroom of dreams will be real.

French Exchange Student Is Enrolled in Art's School

Students walking through Ithaca College's halls have probably noticed the 5' 6" brown eyed blond haired French exchange student, Christine Bermond.

Christine is taking Liberal Art Courses here at college and also is an instructor for the French labs.

Nice, in the southern part of France, is Chris' home along with her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bermond, her three younger sisters—Michele, 18; Danelle, 14; Mary Christine, 11; and her brother Marc, 24. Christine loves her home, especially the "beautiful, clear, blue sky".

Literature Major

In France, Christine majored in literature at the Institute d'etudes litteraires, which is similar to a university.

In the future she plans to do some touring.

This twenty year old girl has a diversified field of interest. She likes to swim, and listening to a jazz pianist is tops on her list. One of her desires is to be able to ski.

She is fond of several American music artists, and movie stars. "Diana" by Paul Anka, and "Venus" are her favorite recordings. Ava Gardner and Rock Hudson are two movie stars she really enjoys.

Christine Bermond

Christine is residing at Newman Hall on Buffalo Street during her stay at I.C.

The next time you see Christine pass through the halls, why don't you stop and say "hi"; she would appreciate the welcome.

THE GRAPEVINE

One of the great mysteries of college life is the operation of an old and noble institution called "the grapevine". (By the way, for those of you who may not have come across the term before, "the grapevine" is what all under graduates always hear stories from). For example, we all have heard the phrase, "I got this right from the grapevine."

Unfortunately, none, to my knowledge at any rate, has ever bothered to define exactly what "the grapevine" is. The grapevine has always managed to conceal itself quite well behind a wall of collective anonymity, acting as a kind of invisible shield to ward off detection or "decay".

Since we are here discussing the grapevine, it would be perhaps good for us to define exactly what the grapevine is and then go on to expose the evils of institution for all to see. But we will not do this for several reasons. One reason is that we are unable to come up with any simple, straight forward definition of "the grapevine"; the other is simply that we use this institution too much to be safe in exposing its evils.

The thing that we will do, which is the only solution to the problem we are able to come up with at the time, is to cite examples of how the grapevine functions in actual operation.

The following is a story overheard by an undergraduate in the snack bar. Naturally, the undergraduate shall remain anonymous. However, you may rest assured that we know who he is since we required him to sign his name to his statement.

The story will be told two times. The first time it will be exactly as it was heard by our informant. The second time, the story will be told as heard by another informant several days later after, as it were, being processed through "the grapevine". The story: the first time around.

"I saw the dean in the snack bar today about three o'clock. He was talking to two English professors, at least I think they're English professors. Anyway, I didn't hear all the conversation, but I got close enough to get a pretty good earful.

"Did you know that the plans are all finished for the new campus. Yes, they have another grant from the government or one of the foundations. I think the dean said they'll start moving out within three years. I think they were talking about what they're going to do with the present property. I think they were talking about a use for the snack bar. Although I couldn't be sure."

The story after being plucked from "the grapevine".

"Guess who was in the snack bar today. No, you know who... that's right... and guess who was with him... you guessed it, the two of them."

"Well let me see. I didn't exactly hear the whole story, but the way I heard it they were talking about the new campus. One of them said that everything would be ready to move in two years. The other one said that considering the way things have been going in the past few years, he thought it would be more like twenty.

"They got some money from the government. I think it was something like 400 million, or 500 million, something like that anyway."

"You know what the best part is though. This is great. I really couldn't believe it when I heard it, but I swear it's true. Somebody from the government discovered a wine cellar underneath the snack bar. Yes, it must have been some investigator, you know, someone who checks up on these outfits to see if they are alright to give money to. Well, the story is that it's been there for years. Sure, they're all mixed up in it. Are you kidding me? And then you hear this stuff about they don't know what to do with the snack bar when they move... Are you kidding me?"

Omar Khayyám writes a new jingle

Old Omar has come up with another corker of a couplet. Freely translated from the Persian:

It's what's up front that counts
If it hasn't got it there it hasn't got it

True, the lines don't scan. But what do you expect from a tent-maker—the perfect rhyme of "Winston tastes good like a cigarette should"?

We'll admit that something may have been lost in the translation. But when it comes to Winston, nothing is lost in the translation of rich, good tobacco taste. That's because up front of a pure white filter Winston has Filter-Blend—a special selection of mild flavorful tobaccos specially processed for filter smoking.

Winston is designed to taste good. Or, as Omar puts it:

The Moving Lighter lights;
and having lit,
Flicks off. Then you draw on IT,
And bit by bit smoking pleasure
mounts;
With Filter-Blend up front,
Winston's got what counts!

Ryan, Boots, Leibrock, Bona - MVP's

by Greg Aversa

The Sports staff of the ITHACAN has selected its third annual Most Valuable Player for the current varsity football and soccer seasons.

As in the past, the staff has selected a man from the line, and one from the backfield on both varsity squads.

The Ithacan's MVP's are not to be confused with those selected by Phi Epsilon Kappa, the physical education professional fraternity, whose choices will be announced later.

Winning the honors for the football Bombers are quarterback Robert Ryan, and tackle Charlie Boots, while Philip Leibrock, center half, and Richard Bona, right wing, hold the honors for the Bomber's soccer squad.

All four men were unanimous choices of the staff.

Was also Frosh QB

Piloting the Bombers to a 5-2 won-loss season this year was 22 year old Bob Ryan, of Fair Haven, Vermont, whose quarterbacking of I.C. squads dates back to his freshman year when he called the plays for the frosh squad.

Considered by squad mates and Ithaca College fans as a better than competent ball-handler, passer, and punter, this 6' 1", 165 pound senior pulled the squad through some hard earned victories with knowledge of the difficult quarter-back slot.

Quarterback, Bob Ryan

During the Team's last encounter of the season against Alfred University, Bob set up the play in the early minutes of the contest to send Jerry Neufang 43 yards to pay dirt. He later passed to Cain to send the latter into the end zone for another six pointer.

Ryan not only impressed I.C. fans with his football feats, but evidently caused enough coaches in the east to notice him, for he gained honorable mention on the All-Small College North Football Squad for the 1958 season.

Varsity Baseballer

A member of the varsity baseball squad where he finds his way easily enough either behind the plate or in the outfield, Ryan has earned letters in his sophomore and junior years on the baseball nine.

He is a member of the Varsity Club and the Newman Club.

Married this past summer, his wife is the former I.C. coed Barbara Barrett, FE 59.

Boots valuable lineman

Breaking through the toughest and roughest opposing lines this year was The Ithacan's other MVP on the football eleven, rugged Charlie Boots of Massena, New York.

Charlie, whose performance at the tackle post was unequaled in years, concluded a brilliant career of pigskin pugilism for the Bombers with three years of varsity and one year of freshman ball.

This hard hitting senior co-captained the squad for 4 of the first 5 games, an office awarded by coach Lyon and his staff to the most deserving players based on their performance during the previous game, and their hustle during the week's practice sessions.

Prior to the Alfred game, Boots was named co-captain of the season and of the Alfred game.

Made honorable mention

After his demonstration last season, he received honorable mention in the Williamson 1958 Little All-American Poll.

The poll, originating out of Houston, Texas, involves hundreds of small colleges and universities throughout the country.

A physical education major, this 6' 1", 210 pound tackle is a member of the Varsity Club, Newman Club and a brother in Phi Epsilon Kappa.

The Ithaca College soccer squad, coached by Isadore "Doe" Yavits, closed its season with a 5-4 win-loss record.

Its hustle and determination was far more impressive than the debit-or-credit that is but a small representation of the teams' aggressiveness.

Spear-heading the squad from the tough center halfback position was veteran soccerman Phil Leibrock of Mount Vernon, N.Y.

Two-sport man

Phil, a familiar figure in I.C. varsity gear, concluded his third varsity soccer season, and while making a quick change from soccer shoes to basketball sneakers, begins working on his third season of varsity basketball this week.

One of the college's most versatile athletes, this center half out-hustled out-booted, and out-winded every line the squad came up against while running from the starting whistle to the final blast.

As unusual as it may seem, since the center-half slot is more of a defensive position, Leibrock scored several times this year, each coming from deep center.

During his freshman year, Phil played first base on the yearling baseball team.

During and since his sophomore year, he has played and earned letters in soccer and basketball.

A member of the Varsity Club, and a resident of Newman Lodge, Leibrock is a brother in Phi Epsilon Kappa.

The choice from the line of the soccer squad is Richard Bona, a junior in the physical education department, from Trumansburg, N.Y.

Center-halfback, Phil Leibrock

Bona who covered the outside left wing earned favorable comments from opposing coaches with his dribbling, passing, and play-setting-up abilities.

Former footballer

This former Gloversville High footballer switched his talents to soccer when he arrived in Ithaca, getting his first taste of the game under the tutelage of frosh coach Carp Wood.

Always ready for the fast break from his wing post, this fast moving, crazy legged booter out-manuevered some of the biggest defensive backs of opposing teams.

Starting in all of the nine contests, Rich scored eight points, most of which were unassisted.

During his freshman year, Dick wrestled in the 137 pound class and played right field on the frosh baseball squad.

Training is a year-round habit with this flexible young athlete.

Aside from soccer, he is on the varsity wrestling squad, and pole-vaults for the varsity track team, and has earned letters in both sports.

An honor student and named to the Dean's List last spring, Rich is presently pledging Phi Epsilon Kappa, the professional physical education fraternity.

The Ithacan congratulates all four athletes on their current successful seasons, and their athletic careers that build the very important role of college athletics to the respected position it holds at Ithaca College.

Their conduct on and off the playing fields are assets to the college.

I.C. Eleven Finishes Season With 5 Wins

by Jim Aversa

Take a goodly portion of veteran performers, add it to a group of hustling juniors, and mix carefully with suprising sophomore talent—the resulting concoction should prove fatal to 5 out of 7 gridiron opponents . . . as it did in Ithaca College Football, 1959.

Tutored by Dick Lyon, the IC footballers scored 182 points to 45 for the opposition, in defeating Brandeis, Brockport, Kings, C.W. Post, and Alfred, and losing to Cortland and East Stroudsburg by one touchdown each.

The Bombers, opening the season before a crowd composed primarily of incoming, freshmen and early registrants, bid the newcomers a warm greeting with a one-sided 58-8 victory over Brandeis University.

Guinan kicks field goal

The hapless Brandeis eleven could do nothing right as Coach Lyon cleared the "lyons-den", and gave every uniformed Bomber an opportunity to sport his talents. The Bomber ball-toters scored almost at will, while linemen Charlie Boots and Jack Guinan were exhibiting their point-after kicking talents, the latter getting his first of two field goals for the season.

The Bombers next faced East Stroudsburg, and found the teachers as tough as always as they dropped a very close 13-6 decision. Deep penetrations into Stroudsburg territory were erased by IC fumbles as both teams were hitting hard in trying to keep their slates clean.

Dick Carmean tallied IC's lone touchdown. Bouncing back from the Stroudsburg defeat, the Bombers returned to South Hill and manhandled the Brockport Golden Eagles to the tune of a 31-6 trouncing.

After Brockport scored first early in the fray, IC, led by senior QB Bob Ryan, retaliated with 17

College's Student Talent Featured on "Showcase"

by Arnie Reif

Every Thursday night Ithaca College television presents a thirty minute musical called "Showcase". The show features college students who sing, dance, and do comedy routines with the accompaniment of a three piece band.

The host and male vocalist of the show is Chet Curtis, who has a wide background in music.

Chet has worked at numerous radio stations besides doing work in television, and singing club dates in and around the capital district.

Here at Ithaca College, Chet has played roles in three major college productions, Scampers 58-59 The King and I, and Damn Yankees. Chet sings songs which range from show tunes and standards, to some of the good new tunes.

The female vocalist and a veteran on showcase is Chris Page.

Chris is well known in Ithaca and sings with the Jazz Explorers at Leonardo's. The production of Chris' songs is unique in the fact that Jack Cantwell is always getting in the act as Chris is supposed to be trying to catch Jack in the game of love.

Four weeks now and he has managed to escape the lures but who knows, maybe this week Chris will catch him.

A second female vocalist is featured each week. Previous guests have been: Marci Abbott, and Margo Schekman, and this week Miss Ede Stewart will be on hand to supply the entertainment.

Dance number each week

A dance number is featured each week and this usually done by Nick DeNola who dances alone every other week and with Margie Achenbach between weeks. Quite a large production is done each week to add color to the dance.

The comedy acts are handled by Jack Cantwell, Charlie Moss, and Ken Murray, who team up to present a different comedy setting each week. One week they may be the Castro brothers and the next the Three Stooges, but whatever they are, it always adds up to a lot of laughs.

plete without music and this is supplied by George Blodgett who is the bass player and musical director of the group, Gary Nixon on drums, and a guest piano player each week. This week Jeff Baker will be featured.

The band accompanies acts besides playing at least one solo during the show. All types of music are played by the trio.

Outdrew network

Put the acts together, add artistic scenery and sets, and the final product spells entertainment and enjoyment to the students and town people alike.

A survey taken last year showed that Showcase outdrew two network shows on the cable which is a fitting tribute to the cast of the show.

Credit must be given to the crew behind the scenes which make the show possible.

Kavanau director

The show is under the direction of Ted Kavanau, and the assistant director is Richie Newman.

Others in the crew include: Hans Hansen, floor manager; John Egan, and Ted Jones, cameramen; Jim Aversa and Dave Canteen, lighting; Hugh Cleland, video; Doug Trenner, Switcher; Don Rich, audio; and Bill Diehl, the announcer.

Showcase is broadcast over Ithaca College cable channel two at 8 p.m. every Thursday.

points before the halftime break. George Maurer scored first on a three yard thrust, and Ryan flipped to junior end Jim Rafferty for a 68 yard touchdown play. Guinan added his second field goal of the season plus two extra points.

The Bombers picked up two more tallies in the second half. Bob Valesente scampered 68 yards and senior end Skip Bement made a sensational grab of a Ryan end zone pass. Charlie Boots added both extra points via placement.

Bradshaw stars

In the lone night contest of the campaign, IC, led by Jim Bradshaw traveled to Wilkes Barre, Pa., to rout the Kings College Monarchs, 29-6.

Bradshaw, who led the team in rushing this season with an average of 6.8 yards per carry, contributed touchdown runs of 91 and 18 yards respectively as he amassed 209 yards in 16 carries.

John Demby and Gerry Neufang also scored for IC.

Kings was limited to 24 yards rushing by the strong IC defensive unit led by seniors Mike Angelo, Steve Bedosky, Charlie Boots, and Joe Dailey.

Lose to Cortland

The Cortland Red Dragons disappointed a Fall Weekend Homecoming crowd by handing IC its second loss of the season, 13-7. IC scored first with Jim Bradshaw capping a 73 yard drive, and Guinan adding the point after.

The injury-laden Bombers were unable to maintain their 7-6 halftime advantage and yielded the final Cortland tally early in the 3rd period.

Defeat C.W. Post

In its final road game of the season, IC set back C.W. Post at Long Island, N.Y., 21-0. Bradshaw tallied two touchdowns and Gary Hill the other in leading the Bombers to their fourth win of the season.

Jim Rafferty, John Demby and Ron Segal combined their efforts in blocking two Post fumbles which set up IC touchdowns.

Eighteen seniors played their final games as the Bombers closed the 1959 season on a successful note, beating Alfred University 30-0 at rain-soaked South Hill.

Defense rugged

Al "Hurry" Cain, a thorn to opponents all season, made many fine runs as did Valesente and Bradshaw. The IC defensive unit played its most inspiring game of the season in holding Alfred to a 9 yard rushing total.

Guinan completed 4 out of 4 placement kicks, bringing his season total to 11.

Coach Lyon in his two years as IC mentor, has compiled an 11-3 won-lost record. Last year the Bombers had a 6-1 record, losing only to Cortland.
